Department of State
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Raymond,

I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th and was disappointed to note your attitude with regard to the vital Eichmann problem.

Enclosed herewith you will find a copy of my letter to the Honorable Henry A. Byroade, Assistant Secretary of State, which should make clear to you the urgency and importance of taking immediate steps to locate Eichmann in an effort to stop him before his influence and that of other Nazis in league with him, is felt by the entire free world.

Your immediate action is vital to stop this war criminal before he can unleash his terrible influence which can only lead to disaster.

Thanking you for your cooperation and anticipating your early and favorable response, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Therefore, it is my contention that our Government can and must use every means available, such as information which I have given and which others will gladly give, to find this Nazi war criminal and his henchman, and bring them to justice, to protect the free world from another holocaust. If a legal claimant is needed to do so, I feel that our Government should urge the Bonn Government to serve as such.

Trusting that immediate and firm steps will be taken with regard to this very vital problem, I am

Sincerely yours,
